NOT WIND ENOUGH.

Yachta Spruce IV and Ethel Wynn Unable to Finish.

CENTRE ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 21 .- The first race of the best three out of five in the match between Spruce IV, representing the Minima Yacht Club, of England, the challenger, and Ethel Wynn, the representative of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club, the defender, which was begun to-day, was not success, because there was so little wind that the contestants could not make the ourse within the limit of five hours, and on that account the event was nullified by the race committee. When the yachts were measured by John Hyslop it was found that the Ethel Wynn stood for 14.24 feet and Spruce stood for an even 15 feet. The sail area had to be taken into consideration in computing this racing length, and it was discovered that the challenger carried almost as much sail as her rival. There was only about twenty feet of sail difference een them. The race attracted many le to Long Island sound. Steam yachts, sloops and other yachts left this beautiful harbor in time to see the start.

The Ethel Wynn got over the line first by five seconds. Soon after Spruce, which had had trouble in setting her spinnaker, overhauled the Connecticut boat. After that Spruce went ahead. They had been away to leeward over a course three out and back and repeat. Running he outer mark, Spruce gained and ded at 2:05:35, while Ethel Wynn did the air died out almost entirely and a ting match began. The drift carried contestants over to the Long Island re, to the eastward of Lloyd's Neck, ay out of the course which had been rted from the center island buoy. From

A Lake Erie "Tidal Wave."

CLEVELAND. Sept. 21.—A tidal wave visited the harbor Thursday morning. The water suddenly began to fall and before the movements stopped it had gone down thirty inches, leaving some of the skiffs and sail boats in the inner harbor high and dry. Luckily no large vessel was at that time moving in or out of the river. In twenty minutes the water came back n one big wave, which spent itself on the breakwater and the beach. A peculiar shaped black cloud hung over the lake to the northeast at the time,

DR. T. A. COX RETURNS

MAN IMPLICATED IN THE MYERS MYSTERY IS NOW AT ELWOOD.

Foresters Will Not Proceed Against Him Unless He Should Demand the Myers Insurance.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal ELWOOD, Ind., Sept. 21-The city was thrown into excitement this evening over the return of Dr. Thomas A. Cox, who is charged with the murder of his nephew, Thomas Myers, to obtain about $8,000 insurance money. The circumstances of Myers's disappearance are well known. Dr. Cox came into the city this afternoon on the 3 o'clock Lake Erie train and greeted old friends in a manner that is surprising considering the fact that he is accused by Foresters with having put Thomas Myers out of the way. In an interview he stated that he had been in New Orleans most of the time since his disappearance, July 1. When asked why he left so suddenly, he said:
"Well, I learned that a warrant was to be filed against me charging me with murder and knowing that my physical condi-tion would not permit me to remain in jail long, I listened to my wife's advice and left.' Continuing, he said: "I have no state-ment to make in regard to the disappearance of Thomas Myers, other than that I am here as I said I would be when court convened to answer to any charges preferred against me. I have been at Chat-tanooga since Sept. 11 with friends, and have not heard a word concerning the va-where and the reason before stated." In response to a question if he intended demanding the insurance on Myers drawn in his favor, he refused to make any statement. Cox will not be arrested unless he demands insurance money, the Foresters say, and then the Supreme Lodge at Toronto will have to order the action.

Another Corpse to Myers drawn in the greatest loss will be that caused by delay in getting the large plant in operation. This plant is the largest in the country that is not controlled by the trust and the outlook is quite promising. Supt. Beatty says that they will be operating with a force of at least 500 men within a month.

ATHLETICS AT WABASH. Earnest Effort to Revive Interest in Football.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 21.-Wabash College has got down to work again in real earnest. Nearly all of the old students are back, and the list of new ones is larger than usual. The faculty has been considerably strengthened since last year and excellent work is assured in all departments. Football enthusiasm is manfesting itself early. There were two pretty fair teams on the field last evening, and they put up a game with enough ginger in it to keep the bleachers in good spirits. What Wabash will do in football this year, however, is uncertain. Indeed, the future colleges are concerned, appears to be less possible, of course that a few weeks of practice on the gridiron will revive popular nterest and confidence in football. Mean-Wabash has taken steps to be in The college has organized the Athletic Association, the executive com-mittee being Herdman, Little, Todd and vellborn. The committee has elected Mr. Wellborn manager of the football team, and Mr. Sullivan, of the junior class, captain. All the men named are of the senior class except Sullivan.

The class of '98 held a meeting yesterday morning and chose as president Cy Knouff Kappa Sigma; vice president, Marion Spit-ler, Phi Psi; secretary, R. A. Noble, Ph Delta; treasurer, Ashton Van Nuys, Delta Tau; manager of the football team, Frank Given, Delta Tau; sergeant-at-arms, Will Chrisney, Phi Gam. The barbs were utterly routed, although there is said to have been no contest to speak of. Very little class spirit has developed so far. Only one or two class yells have been heard since college opened, a fact probably due to stress of work and the extremely hot ocieties to give evidence of returning life It held a meeting last evening and organized for business. There is no question that fraternity rivalry killed the "literary" in Wabash College last year.

He was soon on friendly terms with his fellows and disported in the big tank to the infinite delight of all the visitors. A few days ago, however, the reptiles had a falling out and the Mississippi "gator" kept to himself. He was attacked by the large Florida male reptile and a duel lasting an hour resulted. The other Florida "gator" crawled out of the way and looked on in apparent fright. The two reared and clawed each other till the water of the basin was discolored. The Florida reptile was the larger, but did not excel in pluck.

INDIANA YEARLY MEETING. Biggest Gathering of Quakers in the West This Week.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 21 .- On Wednesday next there will assemble in this city the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends, which is the largest of the eight Western yearly meetings. It has 146 meetings, 188 ministers, sixty-two pastors and 18,850 members, four thousand more members than the Western Yearly Meeting, just adjourned at Plainfield, and which is second in size. On Sept. 28 the Hicksite Yearly Meeting will also begin its session here, but attracts little attention, as the membership is quite small and the growth limted. It is held here and at Waynesville, O., alternately. The proceedings of the Indiana Yearly Meeting (Orthodox) are looked forward to with interest, inasmuch as it is thought some advanced steps may be taken by the society. It is also thought possible that the case of Dr. Dougan Clark, alleged to be guilty of heresy on account of allowing himself to be baptized, may me up for consideration. It has attracted widespread attention on account of his nence. The case has already proved a large disturbing element locally. THE FISH COMMISSION.

Secretary Morton Wants It Placed Under His Jurisdiction. WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.-The transfer of the Fish Commission, now an independent organization, to the Agricultural Department by Congress at the coming session is considered probable. There has been for some time a sentiment against independent bureaus and commissions. For many years there was an unsuccessful attempt to place the Geological Survey under the Interior Department. About three years ago the Weather Bureau was made the Fish Commission within the purview of the same department. It is believed that such a move would increase the practical efficiency of the work and result in its more economical administration. Opposition to such a transfer will, it is thought, a transfer would take away from it both its independence and its license in the matter of expenditures. The prevailing belief here is that William L. May, of Nebraska, will be appointed to succeed the late Fish Commissioner, Marshall McDonald. The fact that Senator Gorman was to take the stump for the first time in many years lent additional interest to the affair and the result was a large crowd and plenty of enthusiasm. Your party enacted the most logical, the most fair and what has proved to be the most just tariff legislation enacted as our State platform says, in the past thirty years. Under the law, more laboring men and mechanics have had their wages raised than ever be-fore in the history of the country, and when business has resumed its normal con ition the new tariff law will produce reve rue enough to support the government economically administered "Legislation affecting duties is mor fraught with danger to the industries more certain to affect in one way or another the well-being of the great majority of our citizens than all other legislation bined. Extreme caution is absolutely all, the bill had to be so framed as to furnish treasury would destroy for a long time the party enacting it. That there should be divisions in regard to the details of such a measure is not only natural, but de-sirable, when you consider that we have forty-four States in the Union. That there should be warm discussions growing out of the differences over details may be disagreeable, but they only tend to clear the atmosphere and cannot divide Democrats permanently who have the welfare of their untry at heart. The people will not judge the Demo cratic party upon the construction of th neasure, but upon the completed work. And ere it stands, not all that some advanced thinkers may desire, but it is a revenue tariff, pure and simple, and nothing but a revenue tariff, as called for by our platforms from 1888 to 1892, inclusive; not perfect in all of its details, for perfection is not within uman power, but, conforming to our form, the law has equalized taxation, it has bolished favoritism to corporations and lividuals, it has taken from every trust and combine in the Union the unjust protection heretofore enjoyed, and made it imesible for them to combine against the erests of the people. Your Democratic tariff law is so fair that the American people will not soon permit its provisions to be seriously changed. That forty-three out of forty-four Democratic votes in the Senate were cast for such a measure attests its earently for the moment the great common purpose that drew us together, the enacted law stands as the most marvelous achieve-ment secured by the Democratic members of the committee which had this legisla-tion in charge."

M. Taine. Young girls weep in listening to them ("The Idylls of the King.") Certainly, when, awhile ago, we heard the legend of "Elaine," or "Enid," read, we saw the fair heads drooping under the flowers which adorned them, and white shoulders heaving with furtive emotion. And how was this emotion! Tennyson has not rudely trenched upon truth and pas-sion. He has risen to the heights of noble and tender sentiments. He has gleaned from all nature and all history what was most lofty and amiable. He has chosen his ideas, chiseled his words, boro, near the Kentucky line, a conflict equaled, by the diversity of his style, the pleasantness and perfection of social elegance in the midst of which we read him. His poetry is like one of those gilt and painted stands in which flowers of the country and exotics mingle in artful harmony their stalks and follage, their clusters and cups, their scents and hues. It seems made expressly for these wealthy, cultivated, free business men, heirs of the ancient nobility, new leaders of a new England. It is part of their luxury as of their negative, it is an electron confirmation of morality; it is an eloquent confirmation of their principles, and a precious article of their drawing-room furniture.

Governor Woodbury, this morning, held a reception in the parlors by ex-Governor Bullock, the reconstruction Governor of Georgia, and wheeled can see the iron pier about the city visiting such points of interest as could be reached in their limited time. were arranged to be held. The exercises opened with prayer, and then followed the address of welcome by Captain E. P. Howell, who commanded a battery in the battle of Atlanta. Captain W. D. Ellis, of Atlanta, spoke for the Confederate Veterans. He voiced the spirit of mu tual forgiveness on the part of Blue and Gray, and declared that if he could find the federal soldier who fired the gun that laid him low in one of the battles of the war l would take him by the hand and salute him as a brother. He paid a fine tribute to Southern women in recognition of the brave North, General J. R. Lewis, recent Re lican postmaster of Atlanta, res the part of the G. A. R. Hemphill introduced General James Longstreet and then followed cheers which might have been prolonged indefinitely had not the band struck up and drowned them out. As is well known, General Longstreet's hearing is far from good, and he spoke too low to be heard continuously. But whenever he was heard the "feathers fairly flew." He concluded with the assertion that he would not undertake to say who was wrong or who was right in the recent struggle, "but now," he added, turning to 'he old wearers and lynched.

State of the South greets the Empire State of the North," Governor Morton came to the front of the platferm and the whole house rose to its feet. It looked like a Morton ovation. At the conclusion of his remarks there was another demonstration and then McKinley arose and was quite as warmly greeted. McKinley could be heard. He alluded to the rupture of the past, and present unity in the hearts of the peo which could never be broken. "North" and "South" should henceforth denote geo-graphical divisions and nothing else. "The words should no longer suggest passion and hatred," he said. The war has been over thirty-one years. Its bitterness should be past and its glories heritage of us all. They belong as well to those who lost as to those who won. Our concern should not for past but for future. If we ever fi bore. I am glad to come again to your hospitable State. I come here to bring to Georgia the good will of the great State which I have the honor to represent. What we need is to get closer together. There has been no unpleasantness since the war between wearers of gray and blue. It's all been people who fought on neither side and were quite ready to get on either side."

At the conclusion of McKinley's speech he was greeted by a most tremendous applause. General Fairchild, of Wisconsin, stated that in his State the war had been over ever since April, 1865. Several prominent men who were expected to take part in to-day's exercises dis-pointed the local veterans and expositi committee. MOTHERS and those soon to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its tortures, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child. Mrs. Dora A. Guthere, of Oakley, Overlow Co., Tenn., writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my housework, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stouter now than I have been in six years. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best to take before confinement, or at least it proved so with me. I never suffered so little with any of my children as I did with my last."
